

SOME PEOPLE MIGHT SAY this is overly cautious.

Dr. SRG

WE SAY in surgery, there's no such thing.

One method for eliminating incidents of wrong-site surgery calls for patients to watch as surgeons' initials are signed with a marker on the site requiring the operation. We say this simple precaution is a step worth taking. For more ways of partnering with your physician to maximize your surgical outcome, visit orthoinfo.org.
